

Patrick & Sheila Wolfe

Missionaries to the U.S. Military

July 10, 2014

Dear Friends, Family and Fellow Laborers in Christ,

It's hard to believe my last letter was just over two months ago. So much has happened since then.

The month of May saw us getting ready to transition from full time work and part time deputation into full time deputation. It was as difficult spiritually as it was rewarding because stepping out and living by faith is not something our flesh wants to do. Fear and doubt constantly reared their heads for me to deal with. However, at each church we went to, we heard numerous stories of God's faithfulness and saw many examples. Sheila had battles of her own as she prepared to leave the school where she's taught these past six years. She loved the job and the people she dealt with every day and is deeply loved by all who know her. Leaving her friends, coworkers, school children and their parents was very difficult. Alana on the other hand still continues to be very excited about the future and what it holds without ever seeming to look back. God has given her a few pen pals to keep in touch with and she's been able to see her old friends from time to time as well.

While May was challenging, June could only be described as blessed. We started it off in Chattanooga where we spent the first five days of June in the second part of BIMI's Candidate School. We met several old friends and made a few new ones. We left Chattanooga and went straight to a meeting in Missouri, then to a mission conference in the middle of Mississippi. From there we headed to Georgia to spend a week with our pastor from Germany who now pastors a church just outside Ft. Stewart. We finished up by coming home to our sending church where I was given an opportunity to preach and a love offering was taken up to help us as we start full time.

Our calendar continues to fill up for the rest of 2014. At least one church has taken us on over the past two months and we believe several others that we've presented at will also. We are still below the 10% mark for our support level but feel confident that we will be over that by the end of July. Our goal for our next prayer letter is 15%. Please pray for God's abundance in our support.

Thank you and God Bless,

The Wolfes
